

Graduate School Scholarships

- 1) Career-Specific Scholarships
- 2) College-Based Awards
- 3) Fulbright Program
- 4) North American Interfraternal Foundation
- 5) Professional Organizations
- 6) Research Fellowships

Career-Specific Scholarships

- Financial aid offers to graduate students who are studying in a specific career field.
 - The American Copy Editors Society (ACES) Scholarship offers a $2,500 grant for students who study journalism for graduate school.
 - The Applegate Jackson Park Future Teacher Scholarship awards $1,000 to graduate student who are getting a graduate degree in education/teaching.
 - To know if your career choice offers any scholarship, ask you graduate department advisor.

College-Based Awards

- Financial aid offers from the college for graduate students who accept to go there.
 - Champlain College offers graduate students to win $1,000 scholarship for their first 3-credit course taken with a program

- San Francisco State University Alumni Scholarship Association offers graduate students $1,000 who cumulative GPA is at least a 3.25 GPA and who are enrolled full-time.
- Each college across the states has their own College-Based awards.
- Call your graduate school Financial Aid to know which and what college-based awards are available for you.

Fulbright Program

- Sponsored by the United States Department of State, Bureau of and Cultural Affairs, it offers multiple grants which each grant vary on the financial help for graduate students, teachers, researchers, and professionals.
 - The Fulbright also offers grant to people of color to increase the diversity in graduate schools.
 - More information click on their website and how to apply, go to this website <http://www.iie.org/fulbright>

North American Interfraternal Foundation

- NIF is a non-profit organization, which sponsor scholarships and fellowships for graduate and undergraduate students who were, or are in a social or professional Greek life in college. Many of the NIF fund are from donations so the amount of scholarship vary.

- Two NIF scholarships include James H. McLaughlin Scholarship and Mary Louise Roller PanHellenic Scholarship,
- Two Fellowships include the Jack Anson Fellowship and the Lloyd G. Balfour Fellowships.
- If you are in some sort of Greek life, this is a good opportunity to utilize your Greek life resources.

Professional Organization

- Scholarships sponsor by different organizations to students who want to pursue graduate school
 - The American Bar Association offers Legal Opportunity Scholarship grants for 20 diverse students who want to pursue a law degree. The grant is $15,000 and is cover through 3 years of law school.
 - The American Institute of Graphic Arts offers the Word studio AIGA Scholarship Program to minority and economically disadvantage students who want to go to graduate school for advertising, fine arts, graphic design, illustration, interactive design/motion graphics and photography.

- Click this link for more example of different organization you can join for grants and scholarships

<http://www.scholarships.com/financial-aid/college-scholarships/scholarships-by-grade-level/graduate-scholarships/professional-organizations/>

- If the organization you are a part of do not offer scholarships or grants, you can ask your fellow members or the head organizer(s) if they know any other similar organization that offer grants.

Research Fellowships

- Research fellowships are offer from a wide range of organization, college and cooperation.
 - The research fellowship is mostly for students who have received their doctoral degree or have completed a field studies that is equivalent to a doctoral degree.

- Some research fellowship includes the Folgers Shakespeare Library and Alfred P. Sloan Foundation.
- The research fellowship differs depending on the country, States and the institution in which they are located.
- To know if your graduate school offers research fellowship, contact their Financial Aid office or the department graduate office.

To see if there are more scholarship, fellowship, and grant for graduate school beside the one mention above, go to this website,

<http://www.scholarships.com/scholarship-search.aspx>