▼ 2. Brief Activity Description

Describe the activity and its relationships to the educational objectives of the students' program or major

Brief Activity Description

The course consists of four weeks based in Málaga, Spain, at the Instituto Andalusí. Students receive 80 hours of language instruction, as well as excursions and guided visits to the following: Granada (Alhambra and Generalife), Nerja, Frigiliana, the Picasso Museum, the School of Flamenco, and the Thyssen Museum, among other cultural places of interest. Students board with Spanish families for a total immersion experience. The course touches on all of the University Mission pillars and other high-impact learning practices:

STUDENT RESEARCH: 20% of students' grade will be based on the completion of an in-depth research study on a social issue in Spain. Throughout the study abroad experience, students will be guided by the instructor to complete a research project on a current social issue. Each week students will be asked to conduct research activities on their chosen topic. Activities include, but are not limited to, the compilation of a literature review, interviews with locals, the collection of newspaper articles on your topic, personal observation, etc. Upon students' return to CI, students will be asked to present their research during International Education Week or in one of the student research conferences organized at CI.

SERVICE LEARNING: 20% of students' grade will be based on the completion of 4 hours a week of service work with our approved NGO, Fundación Harena. Every week, students will be asked to complete a reflection activity based on their work at the NGO (5% each reflection activity). The main project students will be involved in is called: "Soledad 0 – vida 10": programa de acompañamiento a personas mayores y fomento del envejecimiento activo (Loneliness 0 - Life 10: program to provide companionship to older adults and to foster active living for seniors). Program link (in Spanish); <http://www.fundacionharena.org/que-hacemos/proyectos-nacionales/proyectos-en-curso-nacionales/soledad-0-vida-10/>

INTERDISCIPLINARITY: The preparatory course to this study abroad experience is cross-listed with the Sociology Program (SPAN/SOC 429 Social Change in Spain. Taught in Spanish, it offers an interdisciplinary approach to the tremendous social change experienced in Spain during the period known as the transition from the dictatorship of Franco to a modern democratic state, as well as how social change is expressed in a variety of social institutions. The UNIV 392 course continues this interdisciplinary approach as students conduct research in Spanish on current social issues in Spain.

▼ 3. Learning Outcomes and Relation of IRA to Course Offerings

All IRAs must be integrally related to the formal instructional offerings of the University and must be associated with scheduled credit courses.

1. Please list all classes that directly relate to the proposed activity.
2. For each class listed, describe in detail how exactly the IRA activity will be integrated with the class's activities, how often/ on what expected date(s), and to what extent

Learning Outcomes and Relation of IRA to Course Offerings

Upon completion of this course you will be able to:

- (1) improve your Spanish language proficiency.
- (2) improve your knowledge of (a) academic literacy, (b) advanced grammar, (c) spoken and written register (levels of formality and informality), and (d) the concept of language variety (regional, generational, situational) and varieties of Spanish used in Europe and around the world.
- (3) develop a cultural understanding of the country.
- (4) conduct on-site research on a current social issue in Spain and report findings.

The language and cultural immersion portion of the summer course extends the material from SOC/SPAN 429, Social Change in Spain, which analyzes Spain in the post-Franco era since the democratic transition, and SPAN 410, Cultures and Civilizations of Spain, which focus on current cultural, social, and political issues in Spain. Both these courses study current issues such as immigration (and migration) in the European Union, racism, employment and unemployment, changing family ties etc.

In addition, this course fulfills the graduation multicultural requirement, and can be taken by any student with an interest in the Spanish language and culture.
