▼ 2. Brief Activity Description

Describe the activity and its relationships to the educational objectives of the students' program or major

Brief Activity Description

This new special topics course was inspired by the PAMU/EDUC/ECON/BUS 435 Music Museum course that I co-taught. This exciting new class is held both at the CI campus and famous Southern California concert and other entertainment venues. Those venues include the Hollywood Bowl, the Santa Barbara Bowl, The Wiltern Theatre, The Saban Theatre and The Canyon Club. I also plan on bringing in 4 to 5 Guest Visiting Artists. Some possible guest speakers include Emmy nominated Television composer, Grant Geissman, Record label CEO Jim Ed Norman, and other music industry professionals.

Course description:

An interdisciplinary study of entertainment venues from the perspectives of music history, appreciation and production, business, economics, and education. Analyzes how these disciplines are linked within entertainment venue practices. Includes an in-depth study of regional entertainment venues.

▼ 3. Learning Outcomes and Relation of IRA to Course Offerings

All IRAs must be integrally related to the formal instructional offerings of the University and must be associated with scheduled credit courses.

1. Please list all classes that directly relate to the proposed activity.
2. For each class listed, describe in detail how exactly the IRA activity will be integrated with the class's activities, how often/ on what expected date(s), and to what extent

Learning Outcomes and Relation of IRA to Course Offerings

Students in this modified course will be required to write a research paper, critically analyze and review an entertainment venue concert and write a subsequent reflective concert report paper, their presentations will also include a reflective paper, and they will write a review/summary on one of the various guests artists I will be providing for the class.

The visiting guest artists and field trips to the various Southern California Entertainment Venues are directly related to the course outcomes below:

- Synthesize knowledge and information by developing a proposal for a new entertainment venue project.
- Reflect in written and oral form on music museums as social institutions and the role of entertainment venue in contemporary society.
- Analyze the interactions of music, business, economics and education in the entertainment venue. This analysis will include the ways that these disciplines complement and conflict with one another.
- Evaluate the business and management practices and methods of the entertainment venue, including marketing and public relations.
- Describe the role of music, business, economics and education within the role of the entertainment venue

▼ 4. Activity Assessment

Describe the assessment process and measures that the program will use to determine if it has attained its educational goals.

Please note that a report will be due at the end of the semester.

Description of Assessment Process

The students in the course will be required to write several papers on the visiting guest artist series. They will also be required to fill out Qualtrics surveys for each of the visiting guests. The students will also be writing reflection papers on the course at the end of the semester and will be asked to address the value, importance and impact the guest speaker series had on the course.
