▼ 2. Brief Activity Description

Describe the activity and its relationships to the educational objectives of the students' program or major

Brief Activity Description

This series of in-class concerts and guest lectures will bring in high-level professional musicians from Los Angeles and beyond to our campus. Our guest artists will perform recitals and give mini-lectures for the PAMU 100 Music Appreciation course. Such opportunities will also benefit our Music Theory classes, and many other Performing Arts courses. Other CI students, faculty, staff, and community members are also welcome to attend these special concerts and lectures. The musical selections that will be performed will range from the Classical music to Blues & Jazz and Latin music. These live concerts will give our students a rare up-close view of performances of the musical styles that we study in our courses. The students will also have the opportunity to speak to our guest artists and ask them questions during these sessions. The musical selections that are presented by our guest artists correspond directly with the musical style periods and composers that we study in our PAMU 100 course.

My extensive experience of working in the L.A. & Hollywood music scene gives me access to an array of exceptional musical performers from which to draw on for our guest artists.

Our musical guests do an outstanding job of verbally introducing their programs, by providing a historical and stylistic context for each of their musical offerings.

The Q & A at each session between our students and our visiting artists will be very valuable to our students' learning experience.

▼ 3. Learning Outcomes and Relation of IRA to Course Offerings

All IRAs must be integrally related to the formal instructional offerings of the University and must be associated with scheduled credit courses.

1. Please list all classes that directly relate to the proposed activity.
2. For each class listed, describe in detail how exactly the IRA activity will be integrated with the class's activities, how often/ on what expected date(s), and to what extent

Learning Outcomes and Relation of IRA to Course Offerings

PAMU 100 Learning Outcomes:

Students will be able to: demonstrate in writing their understanding of music as an art form; compare the musical styles of major periods in music; analyze their subjective and objective responses to a given piece of music; discuss in writing the characteristics of music of the major composers; identify generally the period a work of music not previously encountered; write intelligently about classical music concerts; articulate their understanding of the difference between classical music and popular music; discuss the way classical music is related to historical, political, economic and culture events and speak knowledgeably about several of the most important musical genres and styles of the past and the present.

After our special performances, students will be able to obtain all of the skills above in much greater depth. Our musical guests also speak about the historical context of each composition that they perform. My students are assigned to write about these concerts, which prompts the students to tackle several of the outcomes listed above.

Students from PAMU 161, 261, 361, and 461 Music Theory Courses will also benefit from these live performances. They will demonstrate to our students with hands-on, "ears-on" experiences. They will encourage and inspire them to explore the inner working of music, presenting notes, scales, and rhythms as they are heard in Classical music, pop, jazz, and musical theater.

PAMU 109/309: these performances will be very enlightening and educational for all PA students who are taking private music lessons at CI. The dedication and extensive training of our professional musical guests is evident in each note that they play. Students will have the opportunity to ask questions of these musical artists during the sessions.

▼ 4. Activity Assessment

Describe the assessment process and measures that the program will use to determine if it has attained its educational goals.
Please note that a report will be due at the end of the semester.

Description of Assessment Process

Students in PAMU 100 will be required to complete an online Qualtrics survey about the event, what they learned during the presentation, and how the concert demonstration increased their understanding of the information that is being taught in this course. The results of that survey will be attached to a post-event report about this IRA event. My students will also be required to write a separate detailed report about what they observed and learned about during the performance experience.

▼ 5. Activity Budget

Please enclose a complete detailed budget of the entire activity. Indicate specific items that you are requesting IRA to fund.

You should use either the Regular Activity budget (for events on campus) or -- if your event involves any travel-- you MUST use the IRA Travel Budget Form.

You can download both of the IRA Excel Budget sheets at <http://www.csuci.edu/ira/application.htm>.

What is your intended audience and how do you intend to market this to your students?

My students will be required to attend these events. These events will be included in the PA performance calendar of 2018-2019 academic year. I will also ask my colleagues in PA and other departments to make announcements to their students about attending these culturally enriching events.

I will advertise these events through CI related Facebook and Instagram groups and pages; the CI media department's electronic scrolling announcements on the screens across campus as well as a few event posters. We also sometimes are able to get articles about these concerts in the local newspapers, and on radio.

If this is an event that is off campus, how do you plan to bring back the benefit of this event to campus?
