Proposal Title

Sacramento Health Policy Conference

Total Amount Request from IRA

10,000

Brief Activity Description

For the past 10 years, the PH Department at Cal State LA has organized and led a CSU-wide health policy conference in Sacramento. Approximately 180 students and 20 faculty from 15-16 CSU schools attend. The conference usually runs from Monday evening to Wednesday evening. Students are greeted in the Assembly Chamber, attend legislative hearings, meet with elected officials and staffers, visit offices of their legislators, attend discussions with administrators, journalists, policy makers, and others. There is a special panel discussion with representatives of the state Department of Public Health. Meeting students from other CSU campuses is a particular highlight. Post-conference reports are always glowing, with many students stating that this was one of the most memorable and influential events of their college years. In the past, the conference was largely funded by a grant from the California Endowment to CSULA, which has now run out. The funds requested here will cover the costs of about 10 CSUCI seniors, all taking courses in health policy, including the capstone. Other CSU schools will pay their share and the group as a whole will seek some additional foundation or other funding. The conference was canceled in 2020 due to COVID and was not held in 2021 for the same reason. The funds requested here are for the planned April, 2022 conference (exact dates TBD).

Activity or Event Date

04/20/2022

List all classes that relate to proposal

HLTH 499, 492, 310, 301, 101

Learning Outcomes & Relation to Course Offering

Students get to see first-hand how health policy is made and meet the people who make it. They meet many staff members who are just like they are, only a few years older. They make contacts with students from all over California. They learn about internships in the state Department of Public Health, a program that was also started by Cal State LA and is now well established, serving all CSU health science and public health programs.

Students are required to write a critical analysis of the conference, including a reflective piece on their personal benefit. They are also required to make a presentation to their classes.

Is this activity off campus ?

Yes

Off Campus - Describe benefit brought back to campus

Participating students and faculty are asked to bring their experiences back to their classroom. They make presentations to those in health policy classes who did not attend the conference.

There are no "speakers," or payments to presenters. There are only guests who are interviewed by faculty members and students. In the past, these have included: legislative leaders and legislative staff; representatives of the Governor's office; public health officials; Cabinet Secretaries; former CSU students who now work in Sacramento; and journalists from the LA Times, Sacramento Bee, Kaiser Health News and others. None of them charge for their participation.
