Proposal Title

Upper Division Chemistry Field Trips and Supplies

Total Amount Request from IRA

2,500

Brief Activity Description

One field trip and some supplies for the two upper division courses I will be teaching.

For fall 2021, CHEM 490 Chemistry of Materials course will drive to UC Santa Barbara to visit the Materials Research Lab.

For spring 2022, CHEM 491 Chemistry of Materials Lab course will need additional supplies for this new lab course. Examples of supplies for the labe would be consumable items for experiments to make organic sensors such as silicon wafers that would not be part of the chemistry or physics supplies.

Activity or Event Date

10/1/2021

List all classes that relate to proposal

Chem 490, Chem 491, Chem 494

Learning Outcomes & Relation to Course Offering

UCSB is one of the top 3 universities for material science in the US and has a world-class characterization facility. I have connections with the facility and will be able to have students take a tour of the many instruments and use some of them such as the atomic force microscopes and scanning electron microscopes. We will also attend one of the Friday seminars. This will allow students to see a leader in the field speak and to mingle with graduate students and see the campus. All activities are free except parking.

Materials chemistry is applicable to a very wide range of carrier paths in chemistry. The focus of the materials chemistry courses is to be able to relate the structure of a molecule impacts the rest of the system through interactions to give rise to properties in the bulk material. By having a student chosen project based lab it is very useful to have some funding available to buy supplies that are relevant to student projects that have meaning to them and value in their training in their given subfield of chemistry. ( Nanoparticle water splitting to dental adhesives)

Is this activity off campus?

Yes

Off Campus - Describe benefit brought back to campus

For the trip to UCSB in Fall, students will be able to experience resources that our campus cannot provide. The collection in LA is one of the largest on the West coast and can give a real example to the theory we will cover in class for how elements behave and form structures. They will see one of the greatest materials schools in the world, hear a talk from a leader in materials science and meet graduate students to help envision themselves at graduate school.
