Guest talking FJ Program Major

Julia Balem
A little background of the Freedom of Justice. Identity Studies Values
Freedom of justice=the problems belong to all of us
Overview of the new FJ program: the courses, new and current courses
We need an embedded minor. The students are asking for it. An identity study

Marie F. ADT transfer students it will be easy for the transfers but you want to think about where the transfers fit in with our feeder schools

Janet R.: Social justice TMS, and I will show it to you and help you with your major.

Julie: it is the intersectionality of all.

Michael B.: What is the method of interrogation? Critical Theory?
Julie: yes Critical Theory.

Scott F.: Creating minors where we can't create minors. It has been challenging for them to get together and come up with.

Scott is in favor of keeping it in the MP.

Jeanne: Is there anticipations of how many will be Majors opposed than minors?

Scott F.: there is not number yet

Janet asked if it is a foundational major:
It is not a foundational major

SF said it might be our Philosophy major. There will not be push back from the Co, it Scott's feeling.

SF. We are going to talk about the flow chart.

The proposed changes.

A lot of talk on what the roles of the committees

To add a staff member maybe an advisor to the school committee

A deep discussion about the roles and the process.

Garry asked about the pilot CO policy. To give us an opportunity to try out some initiative

S another line for a fast track.

To work over the summer and to have something ready for the Fall to present to senate.
