Participation in Commencement may not represent completion of all degree requirements by May 23, 2026.

MISSION STATEMENT

Placing students at the center of the educational experience, California State University Channel Islands (CSUCI) provides undergraduate and graduate education that facilitates learning within and across disciplines through integrative approaches, emphasizes experiential and service learning, and graduates students with multicultural and international perspectives.

MISSION-BASED LEARNING OUTCOMES

CSUCI graduates will possess an education of sufficient breadth and depth to appreciate and interpret the natural, social and aesthetic worlds and to address the highly complex issues facing societies.

Graduates will be able to:

- Identify and describe the modern world and issues facing societies from multiple perspectives including those within and across disciplines, cultures and nations (when appropriate).
- Analyze issues, and develop and convey to others solutions to problems using the methodologies, tools and techniques of an academic discipline.

UNIVERSITY MASCOT

A petition was presented to CSUCI by local Chumash leaders that the dolphin be the University's official mascot. CSUCI officially adopted the dolphin as its mascot in March 1999.

In spring 2012 Student Government held an election to name our mascot and "Ekho" was selected. The name was selected due to echolocation abilities that dolphins possess and because it represents the student voice. The spelling of "Ekho" was selected as unique to our dolphin mascot.

UNIVERSITY COLORS

The school colors of CSUCI are red and silver. The red is consistent with the tradition of the region, and the silver is for the dolphin, the University mascot.

PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

The Presidential Medallion is conferred on the President by the Chancellor of the California State University system as a symbol of the authority and responsibility of the office and is worn by the President with academic regalia at official functions.

The Presidential Medallion is a silver disk engraved with the University seal. The seal includes an image of the Bell Tower in the forefront with a rising sun in the background. The Bell Tower is an important symbol for the campus and serves a function like bell towers around the world—as a community center. The rising sun behind the Bell Tower signifies the birth of the University, with the light of knowledge and warmth of engagement emanating from the University.

THE UNIVERSITY MACE

The CSU Channel Islands Mace represents the authority of the University at official and ceremonial functions for the lifetime of the institution and is carried by the Chief University Marshal. Designed and crafted by renowned artists David Elder and Linda Elder of Ventura County, the Mace is an important symbol of the University and its design reflects the spirit of the campus. The staff is carved from native walnut, signifying the growth of the University on California soil, which had been the land of the Chumash peoples before California existed.

On each of the four sides of the bronze finial is a carved medallion; these are the University's seal, the California State University seal, an atom, and the book of knowledge. The latter two signify scholarship, research, and service to humanity. At the pinnacle of the mace, two dolphins dance in the waves, symbolizing the campus' proximity to the Pacific Ocean, the richness of its marine life and the learning opportunities it provides, and the selection of the dolphin as our campus mascot.

COMMENCEMENT TRADITIONS

CSUCI celebrates a number of commencement traditions, including:

- The ringing of the University Bell is bestowed upon an honored staff member* of the campus community, and symbolizes the official opening of the commencement ceremony. The bell was donated by 2005 CSUCI alumna and Associate Vice President for Communication & Public Relations, Nancy Covarrubias Gill;
- A blessing provided by a Chumash leader signals our recognition of building on the knowledge base of the indigenous people who first inhabited this area;
- Carrying the Light of Learning symbolizes the University's commitment to a life of the mind and the central role played by our outstanding faculty. The Honorary Marshal* who carries the Light of Learning is selected by the President as an administrator or faculty member who has demonstrated an extraordinary commitment to our students and the University;
- The graduates' passage through an arch symbolizes the completion of their degrees and entry into a new phase of their lives. The commencement arch was gifted to the University from the Class of 2004;

- A welcome greeting in a second language symbolizes the University's mission to graduate students with multicultural and international perspectives;
- Sounding of the Bell Tower carillon signifies the last candidate crossing the platform.

BACHELOR'S GOWNS

Traditional bachelor's gowns are black, fall to just above the ankle, feature a pleated yoke and twin front fabric panels, and have straight-bottomed sleeves. The gown is designed to be worn closed.

MASTER'S GOWNS

Master's gowns are black and have closed, oblong sleeves, open at the wrist. The gown may be worn open or closed. The master's hood is 3.5 feet in length and the velvet trim reflects the recipient's discipline and is three inches wide.

PROGRAM HONORS

Students receiving Program Honors (Department Honors) have been recognized by the faculty in their major department for bringing distinction upon themselves and the department through their outstanding accomplishments at CSUCI. Factors considered may include the student's contributions to the discipline, department, the University, and/or the external community; academic achievement, including major, CSUCI, and overall GPA; participation in undergraduate research, community engagement, study abroad, and service learning; and other contributions consistent with the mission of CSUCI. They are denoted by + in the Candidates for Masters and Baccalaureate Degrees listings.

Please see pages 27-33 in this program for the Honors Candidates and Honor Societies listings.

A MESSAGE FROM CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY
CHANCELLOR MILDRED GARCIA

Dear Class of 2026:

Today marks both the end of your time with the California State University and the start of an exciting new chapter. Along with the degree you worked so hard to earn, you have gained knowledge, skills and connections that I know will take you far.

Your accomplishment is celebrated today by so many people, including those who supported you on this journey: your family, friends and all those whose love sustained you; the faculty who trained you to look at the world with a critical eye and an open mind; and the counselors, advisors, librarians, tutors and coaches who together created an encouraging environment for you to succeed and to thrive.

You have made all of them, and me, extraordinarily proud.

As you face new opportunities in the days ahead, you will do so empowered by your membership in a vibrant global network of more than four and a half million CSU alumni. Together, you are certain to enrich our workforce and communities. After all, CSU alumni (like you!) have so much to contribute, whether it is exploring solutions to society's greatest challenges, working to educate and inspire the next generation or powering the fight for democracy and a more just world.

No matter the path you choose, please stay connected to your alma mater and to the CSU. Your connections – both to your campus and to other CSU alumni – are powerful tools that can help to open new doors of possibility. Likewise, I encourage you to offer support to all those who aspire to follow in your footsteps in pursuit of a CSU degree.

You begin writing your next chapter today – and I wish you every success. May your hard work and creativity lead to happiness, prosperity and deep fulfillment, both in your life and in the lives of those around you.

Felicitades, California State University Class of 2026! I can't wait to see all that you will accomplish.

Warmly,

Mildred García, Ed.D.
Chancellor

HONORARY DOCTOR OF FINE ARTS

JAVIER GOMEZ

For more than half a century, Javier Gomez has stood as one of Ventura County's most influential cultural educators—an artist, activist, and community visionary whose life's work has strengthened identity, inspired leadership, and empowered generations. Born in Durango, Mexico, and raised in East Los Angeles, Mr. Gomez overcame profound early obstacles—including a childhood misdiagnosis rooted in linguistic discrimination—to become a celebrated educator, cultural historian, and champion for the arts.

In 1973, he founded what would become the Inlakech Cultural Arts Center, a vibrant and enduring space committed to preserving and celebrating Mexican and Chicano cultural traditions. Through mariachi, jarocho, and norteño music; folklórico dance; teatro; and visual arts, Mr. Gomez created a free, community-rooted program that today serves more than 150 youth and adults each day and has reached thousands over five decades. Many of his students have gone on to careers as educators, performing artists, filmmakers, and cultural leaders, often returning to contribute to the very communities that shaped them.

Mr. Gomez is not only an educator—he is a cultural trailblazer. A disciple of César Chávez and participant in the early movement for Chicano civil rights, he has long used the arts as a vehicle for justice, healing, and empowerment. His guiding principle, La Cultura Cura—"Culture Cures"—captures the heart of his work: the belief that cultural affirmation restores dignity, builds confidence, and strengthens community.

Throughout his life, he has served as an arts commissioner, produced major cultural events including Ventura County's longstanding Día de los Muertos celebrations, authored numerous works, and received dozens of recognitions—from induction into the Ventura County Educator Hall of Fame to awards for teaching excellence, community leadership, and cultural preservation.

CSU Channel Islands honors Javier Gomez for his extraordinary contributions to education, culture, and humanity. His unwavering dedication has transformed the lives of countless students and families, uplifted the heritage of a region, and modeled the power of service, resilience, and artistic expression.

HONORARY DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS

CYNTHIA HERRERA

Dr. Cynthia Herrera is a transformational leader whose work has expanded opportunity, strengthened regional collaboration, and opened educational pathways for thousands of students across Ventura County. A first-generation scholar who built her career in service to her community, Dr. Herrera has long been guided by a belief that education is a catalyst for dignity, opportunity, and economic mobility.

As Vice Chancellor of Institutional Effectiveness for the Ventura County Community College District, Dr. Herrera has championed initiatives that connect students to meaningful academic and career pathways. Her leadership has enhanced the District's ability to use data, partnerships, and innovation to improve student outcomes across Moorpark, Oxnard, and Ventura colleges. She has played a critical role in deepening alignment with CSU Channel Islands, helping ensure that local students—especially those from historically underrepresented backgrounds—have clear, supported routes to a four-year degree.

A visionary collaborator, Dr. Herrera is a founding member of the Ventura County STEM Regional Network, an initiative that unites educators, community organizations, and industry leaders to strengthen STEM learning from early childhood through higher education. Her efforts have increased hands-on learning opportunities, supported teacher preparation, and encouraged diverse students to see themselves as scientists, engineers, and problem-solvers.

Dr. Herrera's achievements have been recognized widely across the region. She has been named Ventura County Woman of the Year by Senator Hannah-Beth Jackson, received the Chairman's Award of Excellence from the Oxnard Chamber of Commerce in consecutive years, and earned the Latino Business Award from the Pacific Coast Business Times. These honors speak to her unwavering commitment to equity, her compassionate leadership, and her deep impact on the community she serves.

Through her integrity, her vision, and her belief in the potential of every learner, Dr. Cynthia Herrera embodies the values of CSU Channel Islands and the California State University. Her life's work stands as an inspiration to our graduates, reminding us that when education, community, and purpose come together, we all rise.
