Purpose

The income you reported on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or Dream Act Application appears to be insufficient to meet basic living expenses (housing, food, clothing, etc.). For clarification purposes, we need to obtain information regarding your additional income sources.

Please complete all sections, do not leave a question blank, indicate "0" if the amount equals zero.

Confirm asset information as of the date the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or Dream Act Application was filed.

Student/Spouse Income Sources	Income Amount Received in 2015	Income Amount Received in 2015
Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) $		Financial Aid (refunded amount)..... $
Welfare Benefits..... $		Workman's Compensation..... $
Veterans Benefits..... $		Unemployment Benefits..... $
Social Security Benefits..... $		Disability Benefits..... $
CalWORKS..... $		Retirement/Pension Income..... $
Child Support Received..... $		Investment (Interest & Dividends) Income... $
Spousal Support Received (e.g. alimony)..... $		Other Income..... $
Money received/paid on your behalf from parents* $
Money received/paid on your behalf from others* $		Total Income (Yearly Amount) $

* Money received or paid on your behalf includes money, gifts, and loans, plus housing, food, clothing, car payments or expenses, medical and dental care, college costs, and money paid to someone else on your behalf. For example, if a friend or relative pays your electric bill or part of your rent, you must report the amount as "Money Received or Paid on your behalf". If you are living with a friend who pays the rent and your name is on the lease, the rent paid on your behalf counts as cash support because you are responsible for payments that your friend is making.

Do not include amounts for in-kind support where you are not obligated to pay an expense. For instance, you would not include money paid on your behalf for living rent-free with a parent where your name does not appear on the lease or mortgage agreement.

Explanation

Explain special circumstances (if any) concerning your financial situation. If you listed zero income above, you must explain how you met your everyday living expenses such as food, rent and clothing.
