Our Common Human Resources System Is Now Live

The CSU Common Human Resource System (CHRS) is now live and ready to deliver valuable employee services and to help you have instant access to view and update certain benefits, payroll, and employment related information. With the expansion of employee self-service, our system places certain HR information at your fingertips. As the system has changed, along with various processes, rest assured we will continue to work with all areas to provide training and ongoing support. These enhanced actions will be accessed through the same, convenient myCI portal you use today. For more information, please refer to:

Access: myCI portal - instead of CI Personnel, access via a new CHRS tile

Website: CHRS webpage will post relevant, updated information

Training: Self-guided videos plus training sign-ups

Support: Office hour sign-ups - bring questions and receive subject matter expert guidance

Thank you to everyone for making CHRS a reality for Channel Islands. We are proud to be one of the first universities in the system to pioneer this new system. Our dedicated, hard-working team elevates the HR business process and by doing so, supports the University's mission of enhancing student success.

We encourage you try the new features, stay in communication, and ask questions.

If you have any questions, visit CHRS' Communications page or contact CHRS@csuci.edu
