Greetings Dolphins!

Welcome back! We are excited to have you back on campus and supporting your academic pursuits this semester. Note that we have some new study skills workshops, specifically developed based on your feedback from our MDC Engagement Survey late fall. We hope the sessions are helpful as you continue to navigate your classes virtually. Also note that we invite you to share feedback and thoughts about your programming along the way, just let us know how we can best support you this semester.

We are also starting a weekly TikTok video to promote our events, and look forward to bringing you even more digital content through our various social media platforms. We hope to build a strong virtual community semester, as we all do our best to succeed with everything we got going on. As always, if you need anything please let us know and have a great start to the semester!

ECONOMIC STIMULUS PAYMENTS
How You Can Support Youth Experiencing Homelessness To Access These Funds

Cash going directly to youth experiencing homelessness has been shown to significantly help these youth stabilize and exit homelessness. Economic Stimulus Payments are one way to get cash directly to young people who need it the most. We know that young people and those helping them access these funds have encountered multiple barriers. This tip sheet is the best advice we have received.

Help young people file their own 2020 taxes as soon as possible and have the tax return linked to a bank account. There will not be a non-filers portal for 2020, so tax filing is the only way for youth to be sure the IRS has their information. If this is done successfully, then the youth may still have an opportunity to access stimulus checks from 2020, as well as be in a better position to receive any 2021 stimulus payments that may be disbursed. The Internal Revenue Service (IRS) has partnered with several organizations to help people prepare and file their federal individual income tax returns for free.

Some details for youth who were incorrectly claimed on their parent/guardian’s taxes as a dependent: The IRS has stated that if the youth is eligible for the stimulus payment and has not received it, the youth should file a 2020 tax return and claim the Recovery Rebate Credit. If a young person does this, it is recommended that they attach to the return a written explanation clearly indicating that they were incorrectly claimed as a dependent on a parent’s tax return, and that they should have received the stimulus check on their own behalf. It will be helpful if the explanation is detailed and includes the years in question (e.g., parent’s/guardian’s 2018 and/or 2019 tax return) as well as the names of the taxpayers (parents/guardians) that claimed the youth to facilitate the verification process. Please note that the verification will have to be done manually and most likely will take several months. To expedite consideration, youth should file electronically and attach a pdf statement or memo within the software. Paper filing is processed more slowly than electronic filing.

The IRS uses a five-part test to determine whether a parent can claim a child as a dependent. The latest information from the IRS on dependency can be found on pages 25-35 of IRS Publication 17. This will help you and the youth determine if they were previously incorrectly claimed - a common issue encountered by youth and young adults experiencing homelessness.

5 Tips for Healthy Social Media Use during COVID-19

Brought to you by: LiveHealth Online

1. Set limits.
It can be easy and tempting to scroll on your phone for several hours. Try planning a set amount of social media time so you remember to fit in other activities. You could schedule an alarm on your phone or ask someone to help remind you when it's time to stop. Additionally, most mobile phones have screen time tracking apps. Remember that the limits you set for yourself will likely be different from those of your family members and friends, and that's okay! Allow yourself time to experiment and see what works best for you.

2. Curate the content.
Notice which accounts you follow and how they make you feel, both physically and emotionally. Do certain posts make you feel stressed, constrict your breathing or cause your mood to drop? It may be a good idea to stop following these accounts. At the same time, try to consider which accounts and posts help you feel relaxed, grounded, and more present.

3. Eliminate the clutter.
One of the biggest drawbacks of social media can be a large amount of content you consume at any given moment. All the different messages, photos, and videos can begin to feel overwhelming. While it can be tempting to follow all sorts of celebrities, stores, social causes, companies, and more, see if you can set a limit for the number of accounts you follow. This way you will be able to absorb and appreciate the content, rather than perhaps mindlessly scrolling through it.

4. Maintain perspective.
While filters and different editing tools can be fun to use, they can also be misleading. If you catch yourself doubting your own self-worth as you scroll through social media, try to pause, take a deep breath and remind yourself that social media does not always reflect reality.

5. Find additional online support.
Looking for more tips about how to use social media in a healthy way and/or how to address your own stress or anxiety? You can schedule a visit with a therapist on LiveHealth Online! Plus, if you're new to online therapy, read this blog from Dr. Lindsay Henderson, Director of Psychological Services with LiveHealth Online, to learn more about online therapy and how it helps people improve their mental health and cope with change.

Mixteco/Indigena Community Organizing Project (MICOP), a nonprofit funded in 2001 with the mission to support, organize and empower the indigenous migrant community in California’s Central Coast, today announced the appointment of Monica E. Fairwell as the new board president of its Board of Directors. Ms. Fairwell, who joined the organization’s board in 2019, succeeds Dr. Jake Donaldson, who has served as the President of the Board since 2015.

"I am grateful to MICOP's community, staff, and board for trusting me to serve as MICOP's board president for the past 5 years,” said Dr. Donaldson. “MICOP's work continues to inspire me, and I look forward to supporting this community through the final year of my board term and beyond."

Monica Fairwell is an attorney who represents injured workers against insurance companies. Monica is proud to serve as an advocate for workers. She enjoys her volunteer work with several organizations throughout Ventura County. Monica attended UC Santa Barbara for her undergraduate degree in Political Science. She then attended Pepperdine University School of Law. While in law school, Monica studied abroad in Buenos Aires, Argentina. Monica also enjoys playing soccer and spending time with her two daughters.

PATH Updates

Promoting Achievement Through Hope
Hello PATH Students,

I would like to welcome you all back to the Spring semester. I wish you are all doing well and staying healthy. I would like to encourage you to connect with me during your semester check-in as my schedule is now available at: https://go.oncehub.com/LeticiaCazares

It is important that you also try to engage in the programming efforts that we are providing through the MDC and PATH. You are welcome to refer to our monthly schedule which is uploaded to the main page at: https://www.csuci.edu/mdc/

Looking forward to engaging in invigorating conversations to discuss your goals and how I can best support you this semester.

Best,
Leticia

Chloe Kimble is a Graduate student at Cal Lutheran who recently began an internship for the PATH program at CSUCI. She is also a part of the Counseling and College Student Personnel Program. Chloe received her Bachelor’s degree in Global Studies from UC Santa Barbara after transferring from Moorpark Community College. During her undergrad, she had the opportunity to study abroad in Yokohama, Japan. During her time there, she was able to experience living in a new culture and learning new things about herself and her perspective on life. When she returned from Japan, she reflected on her and her friend’s experiences and realized how desperately students needed support during these years. After a few years of working in hospitality, her experience with training younger employees furthered her motivation to pursue a career in counseling.

Chloe Kimble believes that when entering new environments, everyone faces different challenges with adapting. Students who are struggling need support in order to face these adversities. Chloe was driven by the passion to be the support for students. She wants students to be able to grow in new environments but still be able to tap into support to help balance things out. Through this, she became familiar with the PATH Program and its mission to provide support for students facing difficult situations and environments.

- Hispanic: 65%
- Black: 65%

College Completion Rate for 4-Year College: Undergrad
- White: 47%
- Hispanic: 33%
- Black: 22%

The Sallie Mae Fund’s Bridging the Dream Scholarship Program will award

- 885 Scholarships
- 3 Years
- $3M Total

- 75 $10,000 scholarships to high school seniors to access higher education
- 780 scholarships of up to $2,500 to help students complete post-secondary education
- 30 $10,000 scholarships to help graduate students access and complete their degrees

Who is eligible?
The Bridging the Dream Scholarships are available to minority students and those from marginalized or underserved communities, including Black, Hispanic, Pacific Islander, Indigenous, LGBTQ+, low-income, first generation, and students from rural communities, among others. Applicants must be U.S. citizens or legal permanent residents and Pell Grant-eligible.

WoCinSTEM Virtual Coworking Group

The goal of this virtual coworking space is to build a sense of accountability through community while we work from home. Many of us miss the ability to “work alone together”, be it in study groups, physical co-working spaces, or at a coffee shop, and that’s the vibe this space brings to women of color in STEM fields.

Sessions are centered around two 45–60 minute work sessions, where we work on a self-determined task, with as few distractions as possible.

The Safe Place App

"The Safe Place" is a Minority Mental Health App geared towards the Black Community. African Americans are 20% more likely to experience serious mental health problems than the rest of the general population. However, many black people still do not wish to seek professional help for their mental illnesses.

BlackLine 24/7 Hotline

BlackLine provides a space for peer support and counseling, reporting of mistreatment, and affirming the lived experiences to folxs who are most impacted by systematic oppression with an LGBTQ+ Black Femme Lens.

Scholarships for Women of Color

Minority women have many scholarships and grants available to them for continuing their education. Some are widely publicized, while others tend to fly under the radar. Many of the grants and scholarships available to minority women are need-based, and some are based in merit. Some awards are based on a mixture of need-based and merit-based criteria. Other programs focus on areas of study and some depend on the applicant's geographical area.

Latinx Therapists Action Network

"We are a network of Latinx mental health practitioners that are committed to honoring and affirming the human dignity of Latinx immigrant communities marginalized by violence, criminalization, detention, and deportation. The current political assaults on the migrant community can devastate the spirits, livelihoods, and wellbeing of these communities, leaving deep emotional, physical, spiritual, and political wounds. We form this network as an affirmation of our humanity, our worthiness, our power, and all our people's beauty."
