NATIVE AMERICAN AND INDIGENOUS STUDENTS

Student Resource Guide
2021 - 2022
Multicultural Dream Center
The Multicultural Dream Center (MDC) provides resources, services, and education to support the cultivation of an inclusive campus community. The MDC supports all students, with a particular focus on marginalized populations, through mentorship, intercultural programs, retreats, workshops, and training. These various initiatives are geared towards fostering identity development, critical thinking, reflection, and dialogue across differences to support student retention and academic success.

Diversity and Inclusion Student Council
The Diversity and Inclusion Student Council (DISC) is open to all students who are interested in opportunities to create and foster a more inclusive campus in partnership with the Multicultural Dream Center. Our mission is to empower students to build an inclusive campus environment that is safe and welcoming for all. Through this online group, you will build a community and actively make a difference. Email Kem French (kem.french@csuci.edu) to join.

Ethnic Identity Group Resources
Additional resources on-campus, in the local community, and nationally. These resources are to offer students resources to build community and to expand their understanding of various marginalized populations.

Student Organizations

Society for Advancement of Chicanos and Native Americans in Science
SACNAS at CI is part of the SACNAS National Organization (sacnas.org). Both the National Organization and the Chapter are dedicated to fostering the success of Chicano/Latino, Native American and other scientists belonging to underrepresented groups from college students to professionals. Success being measured as the attainment of advanced science degrees, science careers, and positions of scientific leadership. While the National Organization focuses on the students and professionals currently in science academics and careers, the Chapter aims to increase the pool of students entering the science education and career pipeline.

Movimiento Estudiantil Chicanx de Aztlán (M.E.Ch.A.)
Movimiento Estudiantil Chicanx de Aztlán (M.E.Ch.A.) is a student organization that promotes higher education, culture, and history. M.E.Ch.A. was founded on the principles of self-determination for the liberation of indigenous people. We believe that political involvement and education is the avenue for change in our society.
American Indian Services
The mission of AIS has been a simple one: to create programs and generate funding that will help Native Americans receive a quality education, while still preserving their culture and honoring their heritage.

CHS 315 - Nahuatl Language and Philosophy
Examines contemporary Nahua philosophy, culture, literature, and history, as well as Nahuatl language as spoken in various regions of Mesoamerica and in Mexican communities in the United States.

CHS 352 / PA 352 - Aztec Dance and Culture
Examines fundamental techniques, styles, rhythms, and choreographs of Aztec Dance, along with its history, cultural symbols, Pan-Indian/Intertribal relationships, the study of various instruments, regalia, and deciphering the Aztec Calendar. Lectures about the history of Aztec Dance in Mexico and the United States.

ART 332 - Multicultural Art Movement
An exploration into the arts and crafts originating in African, Asian, Latin American, Middle Eastern, and Native American cultures. Emphasis is on the understanding of traditions and historical contexts, as well as the exploration of indigenous methods and aesthetics.

ANTH 323 - Native Californians
Explores the origins and diversity of Native American cultures and societies in California from antiquity to today. Topics include cultural continuity and change, land-use patterns, subsistence and technology, political and economic systems, religion and art, and how people related to their specific regional environments. Also examines the impacts of European and Euro-American colonization and contemporary issues of concern to Native American communities.

ENGL 378 - Contemporary Native American Authors (Telecourse)
An introduction to the fiction and poetry produced by contemporary Native Americans. Authors of the works studied to join the discussion of their work and concepts important to their work. Modes of discourse and the impact of Native American cultures, concerns, and philosophy on the fiction and poetry of these authors are the primary focuses of the course. Students will meet with the course instructor three times during the semester; otherwise, students will view the telecourse tapes, read the assigned books, read the essays in the workbook, and do the assigned activities explained in the workbook on their own.

Mental Health Resources for Black, Indigenous, and People of Color

In addition to COVID-19, recent events have brought heightened attention to the specific stressors faced by Black, Indigenous and People of Color (BIPOC) communities, who may be experiencing heightened fear, anger and grief at this time. Consistent with the Guide's mission to provide timely mental health resources, we highlight a range of resources that may be useful to BIPOC-identifying individuals seeking support for mental health, concerns and/or coping with race-related stressors, whether current and/or historical, as well as those hoping to share available resources to their patients. Mass General Psychiatry is not affiliated with, nor does it directly endorse, any non-MGH organizations listed here. This list is intended only to share resources currently available in the broader community.

55 Mental Health Resources for People of Color

Mental illness does not discriminate: Nearly 20% of U.S. adults experience a mental illness each year, regardless of race or ethnicity. And while it’s clear that mental health is a crosscutting issue that affects all communities, providing effective services for people of color requires acknowledging and understanding their different lived realities.

In this webpage, OnlineMSWPrograms.com collected resources that have been tailored to the mental health needs of various racial and ethnic groups.

The Atlantic Council for International Cooperation is a coalition of individuals, organizations, and institutions working in the Atlantic region to build and model just, equitable and sustainable communities, locally and globally.

Cultural Survival: Internship Program and Volunteer Opportunities
Cultural Survival's internship program is an integral component of the organization. Interns are actively involved in all areas of the organization and play a vital role in day-to-day operations. Our main office is in Cambridge, MA, and all internship positions are currently remote. Interns must be self-starters who are able to work both independently and as part of a team. Since a large portion of Cultural Survival's work is in Latin America, we are especially in need of interns with strong Spanish language skills.
