Why I Give ~ DANA BAKER

"I give because I believe in social justice, institutional growth, and community responsibility. CSUCI is a place of dreams...people come here to have their lives changed and to change lives. Giving to Basic Needs ensures students can learn and focus on their intellectual and personal growth rather than their day-to-day survival. Our brilliant students are teeming with potential. It is a loss to all when their flourishing becomes compromised by economic circumstances! Giving to the Master of Public Administration is an investment in a dream for CSUCI. While the MPA program has yet to be established, we dream of providing graduate-level training to current and prospective public servants from Ventura County and beyond. Investing in the future of good governance is both a necessity and an honor at this moment in history." — Dana Baker, Program Chair and Associate Professor of Political Science

Why I Give ~ ANDREW SALINAS

"The primary reason I established the scholarship was to allow the legacy of my mother, Mayra Aguirre, whose shortened life was dedicated to helping others, to be carried on not only by her children but by those who face the same challenges as she did.

She was a single mother of three and put herself through nursing school while maintaining a full-time job. We want those who may come from less fortunate backgrounds to have the resources to advance their education in the Nursing program so they can begin making a difference as my mother did. My mother not only used her nursing degree to help others but used her bilingual skills to assist families who needed help better understanding the medical process." — Port Hueneme Police Department Chief of Police Andrew Salinas

Why I Give ~ DIANA ENOS

"Giving to the University is a way I am able to support programs that inspire me or I believe in that are different from my daily work and involvement with the campus. The giving program provides flexibility to change or add to my designation as our student needs change and this flexibility is another draw for me." — Diana Enos, Interim Associate Director for Human Resources

Why We Give ~ BIJIAN FAN and JERRY CLIFFORD

"We believe in helping some of the young people who don't have the opportunities we had. CSUCI's focus on the local students—particularly bringing first-generation college students into the university and trying to change lives and families—is commendable." — Osher Lifelong Learning Institute (OLLI) at CSU Channel Islands

Why I Give ~ PILAR PACHECO

"The Bracero Scholarship grew out of the Bracero Oral History Project, a service-learning project created in collaboration with the Smithsonian National Museum of American History and involved many campus areas and community organizations. The project allowed students to collect and document stories of the Bracero Program, an especially important chapter in Ventura County's history as local fields and orchards received more Braceros (over 5,000) than any other county in the United States. And yet little was known or shared about the program."

"The Bracero Scholarship was created by CSUCI students who sold t-shirts to fundraise for the first scholarship. I donate to it because it allows me to continue to honor the Braceros' legacy, their families and their stories by awarding the scholarship to a student with a familial connection to the Bracero Program. And it gives me an opportunity to pay it forward to a student who embodies the same strength and fortitude as their ancestors, and dedication and commitment to themselves, their education and the community."

Why I Give ~ JEFF GREEN FAMILY FOUNDATION and THE TRADE DESK

"I believe in our community. There is a lot of diversity in our community and there are very few places where that all comes together. CSUCI is one of those places. I think the greatest hope for any community is to educate its citizens well—all of them." — The Trade Desk's Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and co-founder Jeff Green
