Policy on Responsible Use

PURPOSE:
The California State University (the CSU or the University) is a public institution committed to the ideals of academic freedom and freedom of expression. To promote these ideals, the CSU uses and offers access to a variety of information systems, data, and network resources, hereafter referred to as information assets. These policies support and provide additional guidance for those using CSU information assets. The unauthorized collection, modification, deletion, disclosure, or misuse of CSU information assets can compromise the mission of the University, violate individuals’ rights to privacy, or constitute a criminal act.

BACKGROUND:
This policy supports, and derives its scope from the Integrated California State University Administrative Manual (ICSUAM) Section 8000 Information Security Policy.

POLICY:
Accountability:
The campus Vice President for Technology & Communication is responsible for ensuring that a Responsible Use Policy is in place and enforced.

Applicability:
The ICSUAM Policies and Standards apply to all information assets governed by the system-wide security policies
