Jen Maravola

Coordinator of Campus
Recreation, Waterfront
& Outdoor Adventures

A word from her colleague:

For the past year, she has been splitting her time serving in a new capacity helping with Basic Needs & the Dolphin Food Pantry. Jen has an amazing and giving heart. She thrives in helping others wherever she works. Although most of her responsibility is with Basic Needs right now, she still makes the time to support Campus Recreation. If you haven't seen her yet, check out the @csuci_rec Instagram for her twice-monthly "At the Gym with Jen" series. She does an absolutely wonderful job and helps to keep students engaged and informed. Jen has always been a mentor to me & continues to always support those around her. She deserves to be recognized for the strong woman role-model she is to others!

you

FRIENDLY REMINDER: UPCOMING IEAP DISCUSSIONS

In his Spring Address on February 26, "Leading Our New Chapter," Interim President Yao introduced CSUCI's Inclusive Excellence Action Plan (IEAP). As he explained, the IEAP does not introduce new commitments in our work toward realizing racial and social justice at CSUCI; rather, it synthesizes and organizes the many commitments and recommendations made toward that end in Summer and Fall 2020, and it links this work explicitly to all four of our Strategic Initiatives.

To learn more about the IEAP, we invite you to participate in one of the upcoming discussions, hosted by Dr. Yao. Please click on the link to register for the hourlong interactive sessions:

No matter which vaccine you get, it is free. You do not need insurance to receive the COVID-19 vaccine.

Pfizer has 95% efficacy and Moderna has 94.5% efficacy. Please note that even after receiving both doses, you should continue to follow measures to stop the spread, as you can still transmit the virus to others.
