Student Affairs Working Procedure on Alternative Testing Services

Intent:
Outline the process by which Disability Accommodations and Support Services (DASS) provides alternative testing services as an accommodation/academic adjustment for students registered with DASS.

Background:
CSU Coded Memo AA-2014-08; CSU Executive Order No. 926; Sections 504 and 508 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 as amended, Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 as Amended (ADAA).

Disability Accommodations and Support Services (DASS) provides alternative testing services as an accommodation/academic adjustment for students registered with DASS who have a disability that significantly affects, or limits, the ability to take timed exams or quizzes in a traditional setting and/or format. Alternative testing services are a means of providing conditions that minimize the effects of a particular disability to ensure the student can adequately demonstrate knowledge or mastery of a course. These conditions are not intended to alter the fundamental nature or requirements of any course.

Accountability:
Vice President for Student Affairs, Associate Vice President for Student Affairs – Retention, Outreach and Inclusive Student Services, the Director of DASS, all DASS professional staff, and the Title IX Coordinator.

Applicability:
Students with disabilities enrolled full or part-time at California State University Channel Islands (CSUCI) or programs administered through CSUCI Extended Education, registered with DASS, and approved for Alternative Testing accommodations.
Attachments:
- Student Use of Computer During DASS Examination Disclaimer form (available on the ‘forms’ section of the DASS webpage)
- Material Permission Form (available on the ‘forms’ section of the DASS webpage)

Definitions:
- A working calendar day is defined as Monday-Friday dates, weekend and holiday dates are not included.

Procedure:

To be eligible for alternative testing accommodations during timed course examinations and quizzes DASS students are responsible for the following:

- DASS students must first complete the New Student Appointment and be approved for Alternative Testing as an accommodation based on documentation and individual needs.
- When the campus is operating in a virtual learning environment, all DASS New Student Appointments will be conducted online via Zoom conferencing. Once approved, an additional appointment and documentation may be necessary if the student requests new Alternative Testing accommodations not supported by documentation currently on file or previously approved by DASS staff. Alternative Testing approval applies to timed examinations and quizzes, both in-person and online.
- DASS students are to review & complete the DASS On-Line E-agreement form for Alternative Testing located on their DASS On-Line Services accessed through http://www.csuci.edu/dass.
- DASS students are required to identify the course(s) in which the accommodation will be needed and make a request to receive Alternative Testing accommodation via DASS On-line Services.
- DASS students must submit alternative testing requests at least seven (7) working calendar days* in advance of each in-class exam date and ten working calendar days in advance for final examinations.

Faculty Testing Contract:
After students place their initial request for approved alternative testing accommodations online, DASS staff reviews, approves and sends a Faculty Notification Letter (FNL). The FNL lists the DASS approved accommodation(s) the student requested for that individual course. The FNL contains a testing contract link in which faculty are asked to provide testing specifications such as in-class testing time and if usage of notes, calculator or books are permitted. Faculty are asked to submit online testing contracts within seven (7) working calendar days and to notify DASS staff of any changes to the contract. If a faculty member does not complete the testing contract, DASS staff will create a general contract.

Submitting Alternative Testing Requests:
DASS students have a right to select to take any exam or quiz in class without a DASS approved accommodation. As such, the provision of Alternative Testing for in-class examination date is not automatic. The DASS student is responsible for completing the following steps for each individual exam and quiz date:

- Identify course(s) via student portal, DASS On-Line Services, http://www.csuci.edu/dass/

- Alternative testing accommodations request for regular course exams, quizzes, and midterms, must be submitted by the student through DASS On-Line Services (http://www.csuci.edu/dass), seven (7) working calendar days in advance of the date the exam is being taken in-class. Requests for Alternative Testing accommodations for final examinations must be placed (10) working calendar days in advance of the in-class examination date. Note: DASS Final Exam proctoring times differ from the campus final exam schedule. See DASS Final Exam schedule listed below.

- For each in-class exam or quiz date student selects to receive Alternative Testing accommodations, the student must submit specific date, course name, number, and note special testing room requests by using DASS On-Line Services (http://www.csuci.edu/dass/). Examples of special testing room requests include need for a computer, specific needed assistive technology and course-related computer software.

- Exams and quizzes must be taken during the same date and time period as scheduled for an in-class examination, except for final exams (see below) and academic-related conflicts. For exam/quiz time conflicts related to academic schedule, the student must notify and coordinate with DASS staff and faculty to find an acceptable alternative test time a minimum of seven (7) working calendar days in advance of the date the exam is being taken in-class.

- DASS students will not be penalized if the course instructor/faculty provides notification of exam or quiz dates less than (7) working calendars in advance. Students are responsible for notifying DASS staff via accommodations@csuci.edu on the date faculty notification of testing date is provided and proceed with submitting the request through DASS On-Line Services. DASS On-Line Services is an automated system and will provide the student with a notice the request for Alternative Testing accommodation is late. Student is to proceed with submitting the request and place a note to inform DASS staff of faculty notification of the exam date. DASS staff will confirm the notification date with faculty and provide the student with Alternative Testing accommodations.

- For requesting an alternative test date due to non-academic reasons or unforeseen verified illnesses, students must read the course syllabus for faculty established guidelines and discuss directly with faculty. For all non-academic related requests approved by faculty, the student holds the responsibility to ensure faculty sends written approval to proctor the exam on an alternative date to accommodations@csuci.edu (7) working calendar dates in advance of the approved alternative exam date. Proctoring for alternative test dates due to non-academic reasons or unforeseen verified illnesses will be scheduled dependent on DASS staff and room availability.

- In instances where the proctoring is to take place virtually, faculty will inform DASS of the need. DASS staff will then contact the student to discuss the following options: (a) test with the class under the same conditions as all other students or (b) have the exam proctored by DASS staff with accommodations. If the student decides to have DASS proctor the exam, they will still need to request the exam through the DASS On-Line Services system, following the same procedure listed above.
Proctoring Hours:

- With the exception of final examinations, all accommodation requests for timed exams/quizzes must be scheduled and completed between the hours of 8:30 a.m. - 5:15 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 8:30 a.m. – 4:45 p.m. on Friday. If the exam is scheduled to end after 5:15, alternative testing date and time will need to be determined by DASS staff, faculty, and student.
- Students with evening courses are to email accommodations@csuci.edu to request assistance with working with faculty for an alternative day and time during normal DASS operational hours, which meets student availability and faculty approval.

Testing Room Location:

- All exams will take place in the DASS office, located on the second floor of Arroyo Hall unless otherwise advised.
- Exams and quizzes scheduled during midterm and finals may take place in an alternative location on campus due to the high volume of exams to be proctored. Any student with a disability-related concern regarding assigned testing location must be provided to DASS staff by emailing accommodations@csuci.edu (7) working calendar days in advance of the examination date, to ensure adequate time is provided for securing an alternative location that meets the documented disability-related needs.
- In instances where virtual proctoring is required, DASS staff will send a confirmation email to the student with ZOOM link information.

Day of Examination:

- All exam rooms will be assigned a proctor to monitor test integrity, either in-person and/or virtually.
- Specific test-taking instructions provided to DASS by instructor/faculty and placed on DASS Alternative Testing Envelope must be reviewed and verified by the student and DASS proctor.
- Prior to taking the exam, the student and proctor must confirm the total number of exam/quiz pages, and place information on DASS Alternative Testing Envelope form, and initial.
- No personal electronic devices are permitted in the DASS testing room. Students must place all belongings including electronic devices such as cell phones, smart watches, iPad, and excess items not permitted in the exam room, in the DASS locker assigned by staff. During finals or limited availability of DASS lockers, students may be permitted to place backpacks and personal items in an area visible to the assigned proctor or test scribe.
- In the event of a verified need for students to use personal laptops for examinations, usage must be approved in advance by DASS staff and faculty and will be approved on a case-by-case situation for extreme and special circumstances.
- The student is responsible for reading and following exam instructions provided by the faculty.
- Faculty/Instructors complete a general DASS Testing contract listing exam instructions and specifications that will be applied to all exams throughout the semester. Prior to starting the exam, students are to notify DASS staff if testing instructions provided in-class or by electronic communication are different than listed on the Alternative Testing Envelope. DASS staff will attempt to confirm changes with the Faculty. In the event attempts to contact the faculty member for updated testing instructions are not successful on the day/time of the exam, students will be permitted to follow the updated testing instructions by completing and signing a DASS form listing the updated faculty-approved testing specifications and acknowledge that they will assume full responsibility and possible grade consequences at the discretion of the faculty if the revisions were not approved as stated.

- Students must sign a Student Use of Computer during DASS Examination Disclaimer form for any exam utilizing a computer, before starting the exam.
- The software Note Pad is provided on the computer for students approved for computer usage for essay accommodation. Spell Check, translation or dictionary/thesaurus features are not permitted for use during proctored exams.
- Students are responsible for notifying DASS staff prior to starting the exam if they need to print during or after an exam.
- Students must sign a Materials Permission form to use any additional materials during the exam that were not previously indicated by faculty to DASS staff.
- Students are responsible for notifying DASS staff prior to the start of the exam. If a bathroom break is necessary during the proctored exam, the test taker must check-in and check-out with the test proctor. The exam timer is not stopped during bathroom breaks.
- In a virtual setting, the student will be required to sign in to ZOOM link 10 minutes prior to exam start time, log into their Canvas account, and with no other material available, unless explicitly permitted in the contract.

Late Arrival:
- If students are late for any reason, the permitted examination time will be deducted minute for minute.
- If test takers arrive after the scheduled proctoring time block is utilized and it is not operationally feasible to proctor the exam, DASS will cancel the exam, mark the student as a “No Show” on the testing envelope, and it will be returned to the faculty.
- It is the student’s choice to attempt to reschedule the exam with their instructor; however, there is no guarantee that the instructor will permit a makeup exam.
- If the instructor permits a make-up exam, the student must request that faculty send written approval to accommodations@csuci.edu. Approved make-up exam requests must be submitted by the student at least seven (7) working days in advance of the new test date on DASS Online Services portal.
- If the late arrival or no show was a result of a disability-related issue that the student can verify with documentation from a licensed professional, DASS staff will work together with the student and faculty for a rescheduled exam.
- It is recommended, and the student’s responsibility, to obtain information regarding the in-class policy on make-up examinations in advance of testing needs.
- Faculty-approved makeup examinations administered by DASS will depend on DASS space and staff availability.
- In a virtual exam, if students are late for any reason, the permitted examination time will be deducted minute for minute. After 15 minutes of tardiness, the proctor will close the virtual exam link and notify the faculty that the student was a no-show.

Final Exams:
- Final exams must be scheduled two weeks in advance through DASS On-Line Services.
• DASS’s final examination schedule is not the same as the campus final examination schedule. Faculty are informed of the following DASS final exam schedule:

• Established late arrival or “No Show” procedure applies to finals.

• Students should arrive at least 30 minutes before the scheduled exam time, to ensure the proctor has sufficient time to escort the student to the testing location.

• Under “Additional Notes,” students must include any specialized requests or information such as Kurzweil, Dragon, computer for essay, scribes, ASL interpreter; wheelchair accessibility, specialized software (SPSS), online exams, class schedule conflict, etc.

• Students approved for more than 1.5 extended times, must adjust start times to ensure the examination is completed by 8:00 p.m.

Student Conduct

• Student behavior that is not consistent with the Student Conduct Code will be reported to the Dean of Students office. If academic dishonesty occurs during DASS proctoring, the proctor will end the exam and notify DASS administration of the incident. DASS administration will discuss the situation with the student and send a written notification to faculty regarding the act of dishonesty. Faculty will determine the course of action as established for students taking examinations in class.
