STOP!
Interrupt them if they are still discussing the issue. Let them know that you are here to provide support and that what they are sharing must be reported to the Title IX & Inclusion office.

Do they want to still continue the conversation after you tell them this? (You can determine this by directly asking them what they would like to do.)

Intake all information the person is/was comfortable providing to you. If it is a safety emergency, call 911. Does the person reporting the incident(s) need immediate support with intervention(s) to address/stop any future recurrences of the behavior disclosed?

Make a written report in Maxient as soon as possible but no later than 24 hours after the initial report. Include: whether the reporting party desires confidentiality, desired resolution if shared with you, and whether police were contacted. If the matter concerns sexual misconduct, stalking or relationship violence, provide “Rights & Options” resource. Title IX & Inclusion will review your report and follow-up as appropriate. Do not investigate the matter on your own.

Contact the Title IX & Inclusion office immediately to evaluate situation for next steps. If you are unable to reach someone in that office, call either the Dean of Students, Human Resources or Faculty Affairs for further support.
