An annotated bibliography is a list of citations to books, articles, and documents. Each citation is followed by a brief descriptive and evaluative paragraph, the annotation. The purpose of the annotation is to inform the reader of the relevance, accuracy, and quality of the sources cited. Basic annotations include: 1. Succinct argument/summary of the source, 2. Analysis of the methodology, 3. Evaluation of its credibility and quality, 4. Value for the research.

Kevin LaGrandeur discusses in depth the graphic power of fonts in electronic writing and how the access to fonts allows anyone to use the same graphics as published authors. The concept of certain fonts being considered professional or published is key to my argument about the effects of e-books on authorship.
