

Ecology Style: WHAT IS IT?

“Ecology Style” refers to the citation format of the journal Ecology (published by the Ecological Society of America), which is the preferred style of the Earth Science & Resource Management Program. This handout summarizes citation formatting for ESRM courses (course above ESRM 100).

MANUSCRIPT FORMATTING: Ecological Society of America recommend the following manuscript formatting—

- Manuscript and literature cited should be double-spaced in 12-point Times New Roman font.
- Manuscript organization: title page, abstract, key words, text, acknowledgments, literature cited, tables (one table per page), figure legends (on separate page preceding the first figure), figures (one figure per page; label each figure, i.e. Figure 1, Figure 2 etc.), and lastly any Appendices.
- Number all pages (including tables and figures), starting with the title page.
- Title should be “concise, informative, tell what the paper is about and what it found.”
- Key words list up to 12 key words; “Each key word should be useful as an entry point for a literature search.”
- Body should be organized with headings labeled Introduction, Methods, Results, Discussion, and Conclusion (if needed). Methods should provide “sufficient information” to replicate the work. It would include “clear descriptions of your experimental design, sampling procedures, and statistical procedures” (Ecology). Under major sections, there may be subsections with descriptive subheadings.
- Running head: Running heads should be no longer than 40 letters and spaces (at the top of the title page).
- Figure sizes: Figures should not be more than 6 inches wide and 7 inches high. Font size of the x- and y-axis numbers should be slightly smaller than the axis label (Helvetica is preferred); for symbols and lines, avoid very small sizes and line thicknesses.
- Use boldface type only if required for journal style.

LITERATURE CITED AND INTERNAL CITATIONS:

- Literature Cited is a list of references that follows the paper in a separate section with the heading "Literature Cited." Literature Cited should be listed in alphabetical order, using hanging indentation (indent every line but the first). Italicize genus and species names. If you have two citations by the same author, put it in chronological order. List the names of all authors in the literature cited.

Do not list abstracts and unpublished material in the Literature Cited. These materials may be listed in the text as personal observations, personal communications (authority cited needs to agree to the use of his or her name), public communications (reference should include date printed or accessed, title of the source, and basic access information such as URL)

- Internal citations are within the body of the essay.
Singe author: no comma between author and year (Barrow 2000).
Citations of multiple authors: separate citations by comma (Schoustra et al. 2005, Leu and Murray 2006, Dettman et al. 2007, 2008)
Citations of a source with three or more authors: use only the first author with "et al."
(Boddy et al. 2014)
No page references are included in internal citations.

Video, interview, email or text messages.

Ecology style does not have a specific format for citing videos, interviews, e-mail messages, conversations and other personal communications because these sources are generally cited only in the text, not in the Literature Cited list.

If you must cite an interview in Literature Cited, follow this format:

Last Name, First Initial. Month, day, year of interview. Type of interview.

Doe, J. August 10, 1999. Personal interview.

Johnson, P. April 4, 1998. Telephone interview.
